

The National Council for Behavioral Health is pleased to announce the 2019-2020 Trauma-Informed, Resilience-Oriented Approaches Learning Community. Since 2011, we have worked with behavioral health, social service and community organizations to implement trauma-informed, resilience-oriented change. This Learning Community will provide participating organizations, systems and communities with the tools and skills to address trauma and nurture resilience.

All applications must be completed and submitted through the online application platform.

Learning Community Objectives

The National Council's trauma experts will help you develop and implement a complete trauma-informed and resilience-oriented plan to:

- Increase awareness of trauma impact, resilience and trauma-informed care.
- Implement trauma-informed, resilience-oriented best practices suited to your organization.
- Embed understanding of trauma and resilience into all intake, screening and assessment processes.
- Develop a trauma-informed and resilient workforce.
- Build resilience in your workforce through prevention efforts that address secondary traumatic stress and compassion fatigue.
- Increase consumer resilience, engagement and involvement.
- Create safe environments that avoid re-traumatization and promote resilience.
- Organize, collect, analyze and utilize data to sustain quality improvement.
- And more ...

Benefits of Participation

- An in-person Kickoff Meeting at NatCon19, the National Council's Annual Conference, in Nashville, Tenn., on March 25-27, 2019.
- Complimentary registration to a trauma-focused Preconference University at NatCon19 on March 24, 2019.
- An in-person Summit at NatCon20 in Austin, Texas, in April 2020 (date to be determined).
- Virtual and in-person consultation and technical assistance from a team of national experts.
- A thorough self-assessment of your program/organization to guide your plan.
- An array of tools to support implementation of organizational change.
- Identification of outcomes that include performance indicators and tracking tools.
- Our national trauma-informed listserv with our team of trauma experts and alumni Learning Community members with access to resources, tools and contacts.

Financial Information

The National Council will select participants through a competitive application process. The cost to participate in the Learning Community is:

- $7,500 for National Council member organizations.
- $10,000 for nonmember organizations.

Travel expenses to in-person meetings at NatCon19 and NatCon20 are in addition to the cost of participation in the Learning Community.

Criteria for Selection

In addition to completing the application and providing support materials, applicants need to meet the following criteria:

- Provide mental health and/or substance use services (or partner with an organization that does).
- Serve culturally diverse populations.
- Demonstrate commitment to measuring and recording outcomes.
- Able to access web-based meeting services via GoToMeeting/GoToWebinar.

Organizational Commitments

In addition to the above, the Executive Leadership of each organization must agree to the following:

1. Develop a Core Implementation Team (CIT): Applicants are required to propose a team that, at minimum, includes:
 - Project Lead: Acts as communication liaison across team, partners and National Council; internal champion of change (e.g., clinical executive, clinicians with leadership authority or executive backing).
 - Data Lead: Ensures consistent monitoring and reporting of initiative outcomes, works to develop workflow for collection and communicating data throughout agency and with National Council Project Team (e.g., staff from information technology or quality improvement department).
 - Program Representative: Supports integration and coordination into current programs; knowledgeable of impacts of policy and procedural changes
 - Past or present Client of the Organization: Supports integration of consumer voice and lived experience throughout the initiative.
 - Trauma-Informed Champion(s) from the Executive, Clinical or Behavioral Health Staff: Supports functional implementation and integration of trauma-informed, resilience-oriented approaches into organizational culture. (Must have at least one Champion on the CIT.)
 - Human Resources Representative: Ensures continuity with personnel and staff development efforts.
 - Additional individuals are often considered part of the CIT, such as direct care providers, peer specialists and people with lived experience of trauma, mental illness or substance use.
2. Conduct the organizational self-assessment at the beginning of the Learning Community and use these results to guide the Team's efforts – along with other continuous quality improvement tools – toward trauma-informed, resilience-oriented practice implementation.
3. Collect outcomes data and consent to publishing findings of the initiative.
4. Agree to fully utilize the technical assistance and training provided.

5. Agree to send at least two CIT members will represent their agency for the Kickoff Meeting, and at least one member will attend the final Summit Meeting at NatCon20.
