Integrated Case Management Community of Practice

Presented by:

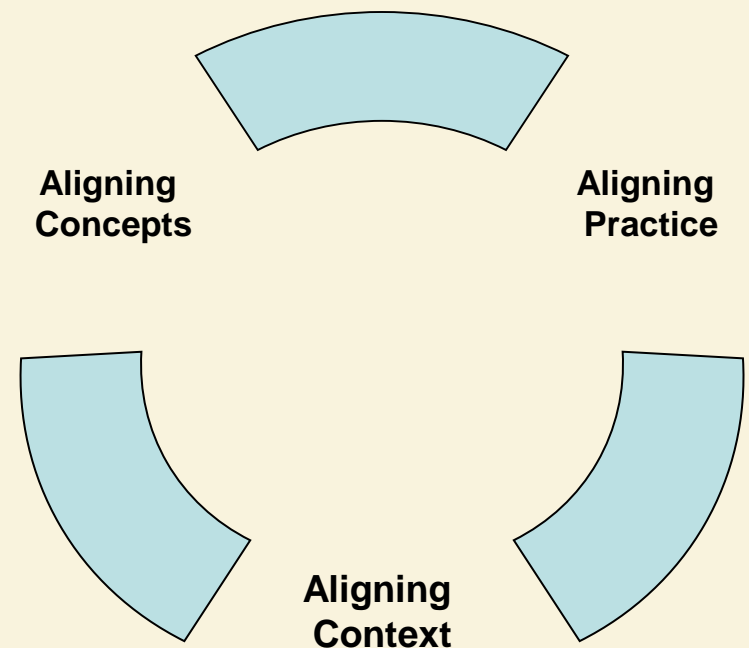

Joan Kenerson King RN, MSN, CS

Senior Integration Consultant

The National Council for Behavioral Health

Impacting the thinking and work of case managers:

- Aligning Concepts: Changing how we think
- Aligning Practice: changing how we use language and practices at all levels; implementing values based change
- Aligning Context: changing regulatory environment, policies and procedures, community support

Why whole health?

- Average age of death
- Preventable causes
- Exercise less, eat more processed foods, less fruits and vegetables
- Total interconnection between BH disorders and health management

What strategies have been successful with :

Helping case managers to think differently and to understand WHY?

Identifying different practices that support health, what training have you found helpful, what supervision practices?

Identifying and addressing contextual barriers?

What data helps people know they are doing a good job?

Data needs to be reflective of actual practice change

Needs to be visual, understandable

What can you count?

Partnering with primary care: strategies

1. Understand the culture
2. Identify strategic partners
3. Develop communication strategies for care coordination
4. Prepare people for appointments: identify their internal or external barriers.

What has worked for you?
